

9th Annual Rajun' Cajun Throwdown Gumbo Cook-Off
March 9th, 2019 Davis Street, Downtown Luling

SPONSORSHIP INVITATION

Luling Main Street is excited to let you know that this year's Rajun' Cajun Throwdown promises to be bigger and better than ever! We have a team of amazing volunteers from the community working hard to make this event a success, but we can't do it without you!

Luling Main Street was established in 2003 in an effort to revitalize Luling's downtown area. Downtown revitalization is a key tool for enhancing the economic and social health of a community. Not only is it the most visible indicator of community pride and economic health, the historic downtown is also the foundation of a community's heritage. The historic buildings in a downtown are prime locations for the establishment of unique businesses and can also be wonderful tourist attractors, all of which add to the community's sales tax collections and property values. Today big-box developments fill our nation, making it even more important for communities like ours to be proactive in saving and utilizing their historic spaces to avoid becoming featureless places.

The annual Rajun' Cajun Throwdown event raises funds to continue our mission of beautification and revitalization of the Main Street District. Proceeds from our 2018 event are being used to ramp up our Façade Grant Program to allow more funds and flexibility for applicants trying to remodel or restore buildings in the Main Street District. Payouts have now been increased to $5000 for qualified projects and will also now include (one) $10,000 grant per calendar year awarded to applicants for larger projects.

We hope you will consider one of the following available sponsorship levels in this packet. With your help and ongoing support, (and good weather) we can continue to make this event better each year and help revitalize the Luling Main Street District.

If you should have any questions about sponsorships, or need any additional information, please contact Derek Hall at 830-875-3214 ext. 304, or via email at mainstreet@cityofluling.net.
